DiSalle's Delegates Lead In All But Eight Contests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention led today in all but eight contests in a slow count of Ohio's eight primary election vote.

The delegate fight featured a bid by Cuyahoga County Chairman Ray T. Miller Sr. of Cleveland to control 29 of Ohio's 64 votes at the Los Angeles convention. Both slates are pledged to U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for president.

DiSalle is Ohio's favorite son stand-in for Kennedy on the Democratic state committee slate. Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter is Kennedy's stand-in for Miller.

Miller, Porter Trail

Both Miller and Porter trailed in statewide contests for delegate seats in early partial returns.

Complete unofficial returns from the 13th Congressional District in northern Ohio showed one DiSalle and one Miller delegate elected.

Miller had two delegates ahead in the 20th District and one each in the 21st, 22nd and 23rd districts, all in Cuyahoga County, as the count passed the half-way mark in Ohio's most populous area.

A similar count showed one DiSalle and one Miller delegate ahead in both the 15th district of southeastern Ohio and the 16th that embraces Canton.

All of DiSalle's at-large delegates running statewide were ahead.

Complete unofficial returns from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown gave DiSalle two delegates each in the First and Second districts of Hamilton County, the Fifth in the northwest corner of the state, the neighboring eighth, the 11th in the northeast corner of the state, the 12th composed of Franklin County and the 14th composed of Summit and Medina counties.

Both DiSalle delegates in southern Ohio's 10th district held commanding leads in nearly completed vote totals.

On the Republican side, former U.S. Sen. George H. Bender of Cleveland fell far behind at-large delegates on the GOP state committee slate pledged to Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

Bender ran pledged to himself when left off the organization slate following his recent resignation as head of the Teamster Union's anti-racketeering committee. It was the only contest for Ohio's 56 GOP convention votes.

Bender's long-felt influence on Buckeye GOP politics took another setback in Tuesday's voting. Mrs. Roberta P. Eastin defeated him, 106 to 83, for committeeman in his home precinct on the basis of unofficial returns.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Does the unexpected. A half hour later United States government care if another carload drove up. We don't people take home pens from the know how the word got out about Post Office, ash trays from the party. Everybody was sworn Courthouse waiting room and items to secrecy.

My husband claims that as tax payers we pay for these things about us and in a way they belong to us. I say if we're entitled to them why do they have "Property of U.S. Government" stamped all over them? Also, I pointed out that the pens he brings home still have the little chains on them.

We have three young children and I don't want them to pick up these habits if it's wrong.—WANTING TO KNOW.

Dear Wanting: Taxpayers pay for the statues in our parks but he wouldn't think of taking them home, would he?

Your husband is guilty of petty larceny and he must know it. Just ask if he filches these items in full view of the Post Office employees or the Courthouse custodian.

Taxes would be lower for all of us if the government didn't have to spend millions replacing damaged and stolen property. Tell your husband to cut it out. He's setting a terrible example for his children.

Weekend Parents

Dear Ann: Will you please print a problem that must be bothering others in the age group 45 to 60?

I'm 46, hold a responsible position and have worked for the past 15 years. My husband's salary, combined with mine, enables us to live well. I get up at 6:30 a.m. every day and return from the office at 5:30 p.m. I do all my own cooking, laundry and cleaning. The only chance I have for relaxing and doing extra things around the house is weekend. NOW—the problem.

Our only daughter lives 90 miles away. She has two active, young children. Every weekend and holiday they drive up, no matter what the weather. They make plans with their young friends and I become a sitter, cook and maid. She thinks we are THRILLED to have them and I hate to tell her otherwise.

Frequently she's told me how wonderful it is to "get away from the grind of housework and kids" every weekend. In the meantime my husband and I are ready to fall to pieces. Have we gotten sellish? I'd like to print my name in capital letters but I wouldn't dare. Just call me—EXHAUSTED.

Dear Exhausted: Your daughter should realize that a woman who holds a full-time job needs time for herself her days off.

You aren't selfish—you're human. And she's terribly thoughtless and inconsiderate. As a homemaker, she must know that cooking and cleaning for six is more work than doing for two.

Tell her you'd love to have her "every few weeks."

For Girls Only

Dear Ann: We're in dutch with our folks and need your help.

Last night my girl friend and I had a slumber party at my house. We invited 15 girls. We planned to have a taffy-pull, pop some corn, play records and stuff like that.

About 9:30 six fellows came over

Meg to Take Vows Amid Scene Of Incomparable Splendor

By COLIN FROST

Third of a Series
LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret will take her wedding vows Friday amid a scene of incomparable splendor, a scene familiar and dear to her heart since childhood.

She marries Antony Armstrong-Jones before the high altar of Westminster Abbey, for more than seven centuries the mother church of British royalty. Margaret has known and loved it all her life.

As a wide-eyed child of 6 she saw her father crowned there. At 17 she was bridesmaid at her elder sister's Abbey wedding. Six years later, perhaps a trifle enviously, she looked on again as her sister was crowned Queen Elizabeth II.

Through the years she has gone to the Abbey for the great services of state, sometimes thanksgiving, sometimes of sorrow. It was to the Abbey she turned in her own darkest days after the broken romance with Peter Townsend in 1955.

The limousine would draw up discreetly by an entrance hidden in the Abbey cloister. Sometimes alone, sometimes with a trusted lady in waiting, Margaret would slip in by a side door and kneel

Why Anti-Communists Finally See Red

The disarmament parley at Geneva tied everybody in knots, except the debaters from the Kremlin. They blocked agreement, as usual.

The summit conference in mid-May will follow the same line of procedure. The non-Communist governments will find themselves tripped up and blocked at every turn by Communist experts in tripping and blocking.

This has been the Kremlin's policy in all international conferences. It has been the Soviet Union's trademark in the United Nations. It is the way Russian diplomats make the team.

The Berlin crisis, so-called, was precipitated by Nikita Khrushchev, the reigning all-star of dialectical materialism, which is the root, backbone and fiber of the Communist conspiracy. Every highly placed Communist must be an expert in the art of disputation whereby the Communist party advances its aims.

Dialectical materialism, itself, is the theory that everything in the experience of living can be shown to spring from physical and material causes; that there are no spiritual or supernatural causes for anything in the world and that this can be proved by logic.

Though this is the central core of the clash between the Communist conspiracy and its opponents, it never has been clear to the opponents that it is useless to argue with Communists about it. Communist dialecticians go to school to learn how to demolish the arguments of their opponents. They polish the art of disputation as apprentices in the Communist apparatus of subversion.

They cannot rise to high places in the Communist organization unless they have shown unusual aptitude for crossing up and confusing their opponents in debate. The very fact that they have muddled the waters until Americans cannot comprehend what the Berlin crisis is about, or what blocks agreement on armament control is a tribute to their mastery of disputation.

It simply is not their purpose to reach agreement on anything.

THE HIGHEST ambition they hold as dialectical materialists is to prove conclusively to all who hold contrary beliefs that there can be no middle ground. They do not argue for the purpose of reaching agreement but for the purpose of proving that agreement is impossible unless their opponents surrender.

There is no place in their thinking for compromise. They do not believe in a golden mean. They never concede a point.

This is why anti-Communists finally see red, no matter how patient they try to be, no matter how tolerant, no matter how "peace-loving."

There can be no agreement with Communist dialecticians. It is contrary to what they are trying to do, which is to discredit and demolish all philosophies and beliefs that do not coincide with their own.

WHEN NON-COMMUNIST statesmen confess inability to make progress in arguments with Communists, they are not confessing failure. They are acknowledging that they have learned what the Communists already know—that no one who does not believe in dialectical materialism has an outside chance of reaching an agreement with a dialectical materialist.

If this were better known—if Americans could understand why their government always is frustrated in attempts to make agreements with the Soviet Union—there would be less despair when conferences with Communist dialecticians come to nothing.

That is what the Red dialecticians are supposed to do—to make certain that no one who is not a Communist can claim he won an argument with anyone who has been checked out as a card-carrying Communist.

Almost An Open Invitation

The longer you think about the Russian trawler that showed up on the scene of missile-firing tests for the U.S. submarine George Washington, the more you wonder about the problem this made for the Navy.

If the Navy wanted to maintain secrecy about this new submarine's role in the Polaris missile system, it could have postponed the tests until the Russian trawler went away.

If the Navy wanted to conduct the tests in secrecy, it could have made its preparations in such secrecy that the Russian trawler would have had no reason to be on hand.

As it was, there was almost an open invitation to attend the tests. In view of the secrecy in waters that could not be barred to any observer who wanted to be present, it is impossible to understand what the fuss is about.

In what sometimes seems to have been a more logical era of international muscle-flexing, military observers from other nations were invited to be present for all demonstrations of patent weapons and frequently for war games. The idea was to impress them with the folly of starting trouble. It didn't always work that way, but who knows how many wars have been postponed after a would-be暖maker ran a speculative thumb over the cutting edge of a potential enemy's sword?

Secrecy is the big security passion in this sometimes illogical era, but some of us helping to put up the money for Polaris and other system of wholesale destruction would be happier if Russian observers attended every demonstration of U.S. power. If the Polaris system is what it cracked up to be, the Navy should invite Premier Khrushchev, himself, to see how a missile with a nuclear warhead can be fired from a nuclear-powered submarine that can cruise the oceans of the world for months at a time without even surfacing for fresh air.

Spelling Bees

Six Columbiana County spelling champions will compete with 32 others from adjacent counties in the Bee Finals at Canton Friday night, a contest to determine the grand champion who will go to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C., the week of June 6.

Salem's five entrants in the county-wide spelling bee, held last week, did not fare as well as in previous years but their good wishes go to Kenneth Huk of Columbiana village school and Jeanne Kleemann of United Local who, with four from the southern end of the county will carry this district's colors into "the battle of words" Friday night.

Only one will win, but for all of the contestants—from the time that the preliminary eliminations were held in the various schools—it has been a rewarding experience of learning to spell better, increasing their knowledge that they may pursue other studies successfully. Sad, indeed, is the pupil who can't spell.

United's Black and Gold

Natty black and gold uniforms have been ordered for the United Local High School band as the result of a fund campaign which the United Band Boosters and others have pushed in the neighboring district southwest of Salem.

More than $3,500 of the $4,200 fund goal has been raised, sufficient to order 51 new uniforms and costumes for 10 majorettes. When the uniforms arrive they will replace secondhand outfits acquired by the school six years ago.

United is a comparatively new school but it has come a long way because the people of the district have demonstrated time and again their desire for a fine educational system. United can take justifiable pride in its accomplishments, including the new uniforms which undoubtedly will become a familiar sight in parades in the months and years to come.

Wild Blue Yonder

Views of Our Readers

Favors Knox, Sebring Merger

Isn't it true that the Local Board recommending the split is not infallible and subject to all human frailties?

These are questions that each citizen, parent and taxpayer should obtain correct answers, if they honestly desire the best settlement for their own interests with fairness to others, but particularly to their own pocketbook.

Despite the recorded statement of the County Superintendent that with the proposed split ALL will pay more, we read in "The Township News," that "when Sebring is set out alone township taxes will drop by an amount equal to what they were raised when the consolidation was formed. For the first time Sebring will have to assume the entire liability for their bonded debt."

In connection with the proposal to divide the present District to be acted upon at the May 4 meeting of the Mahoning County Board of Education, we raise the following questions:

Are the citizens of the District again being misled by false information?

Is the conclusion arrived at based upon a complete survey of all relevant factors?

Isn't it true that the former Local Board is on record as violating state law?

Isn't it true that the County Superintendent is on record as stating that "when the present District is split, it will cost everyone more"?

Isn't it true that the education of your children will not suffer, as the state is obligated by law to educate our youth and the dire predictions of some educators cannot materialize?

Is it true and do the facts support the claim that the proposed split is the best or the only answer?

According to Section 3311.26 of the Ohio School Code, this not alone violates good reporting but is totally false. In simple language Section 3311.26 states that all townships now in the Local District, will continue to pay on the Sebring debt after the split.

This means to the people of Knox that while there may be some slight changes in taxes due to the revaluation now under way in Columbiana County you will still continue to pay on the Sebring debt.

In addition, with inadequate high school facilities in the proposed district after the split, a bond issue will be necessary for the large building proposed. As the powers that be have indicated indirectly their intent to go to the full nine-mile limit, such bond issue will probably be greater than the approximate 1½ million defeated three times by a majority of the district. This will naturally increase your tax. You will still pay the same tax you are now paying.

While most of the propagandists blame the entire mess on the village of Sebring, search your own conscience and ask yourself in all sincerity, if you lived in Sebring with a high school of high educational standards, would you vote for additional taxes for a large school miles away?

Insofar as Knox is concerned, the citizens should give serious consideration and support to a proposed split.

Ross Ickes, chairman.

During the past year, 3,726 diabetes detection kits have been distributed by the Columbiana County Public Health League's Mobile X-ray unit, Miss Lillian R. Schroeder, executive secretary of the league, reported today.

Twenty per cent of the kits were returned for processing. Of 16 persons who had positive reactions to the tests, four were found to be new cases of diabetes and 11 were diagnosed as normal following further examination. One person was a known diabetic not under medical care.

Security Payments Depend on Earnings

To qualify for social security benefits at retirement, how many work units will you need? "Most people don't know," William J. McCauley, district Social Security manager, said today. Many don't even know there is such a requirement while others mistakenly think they can qualify for payments with only a year or two of work.

"Most people need several years of credit," Mr. McCauley continued, "and the chances are, you will too." The exact number you will need depends on when you reach retirement age; 62 for women, 65 for men. People reaching retirement age now need 4½ years of earnings. Younger people will need more. For example, anyone now under age 54 will need 10 years — the maximum.

Since payments in the future depend on your earnings now, it's important that you receive all credit due. If you work for wages, you should be certain your employer reports them with your correct social security number. If you are self-employed, you should be careful to use your correct social

Gay Lime Pie Matches Spring

As gay as spring—with delicate texture, lovely to look at and delightful to eat—this ice cream parfait pie with the excitement of fresh lime flavor is menu news.

Lime Pie Delicacy

(Makes one 9-inch pie)

Crust: Three-quarters cup sifted enriched flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup shortening, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup rolled oats (crisp or old-fashioned, uncooked), 3 to 4 tablespoons cold water.

Filling: One 3-ounce package lime gelatin, $\frac{1}{4}$ cups hot water, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fresh lime juice, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon grated lime rind, 1 pint vanilla ice cream. One-half cup flaked or shredded coconut, toasted.

Heat oven to hot (425 degrees F.) For pie crust, sift together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs; add oats, mix lightly.

Add water, a tablespoon at a time, stirring until pastry can be formed into ball. Let rest 5 minutes. Roll dough on lightly floured board or canvas to form 12-inch circle; fit loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Fold edge under; flute.

Prick bottom and sides. Bake in preheated oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. For filling, dissolve gelatin in water, add lime juice and rind. Spoon ice cream into hot gelatin mixture, stir until ice cream is melted.

Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Pour into pie shell. Sprinkle coconut to form a band near edge. Chill several hours until set.

vice, 12 W. Main St., Canfield, is sending this information and cards for enrolling to all known sheepmen. Farmers who wish to sign up for the sheep dipping service and do not receive the information may stop at the Extension Office or call LE 3-5539.

Coconut Cake

One package orange coconut cake mix, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup softened butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup firmly packed brown sugar, 2 to 3 tablespoons light cream or peach juice, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flaked coconut, 1 (12-ounce package) quick-frozen sliced peaches, thawed and drained.

Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Pour into greased and floured 13 x 9 x 2-inch cake pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40-45 minutes. Cool in pan at least 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, cream butter and sugar together in a small bowl. Add cream and beat until smooth. Add coconut. Dip peaches in fruit juice to prevent darkening; then arrange on top of the cake.

Spread the topping over the cake and peaches and place under broiler about 2 minutes, or until sugar is bubbly and coconut is slightly browned. Serve warm or cold; whipped cream optional.

Note: Cake is best served day it's made, as peaches will discolor.

Note: Topping mix has slightly curdled look before broiling.

Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Pour into pie shell. Sprinkle coconut to form a band near edge. Chill several hours until set.

Eggplant Meuniere
Peel 1 large eggplant and cut into slices $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch thick. Place in a bowl. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and let stand for 30 minutes. Pat dry with paper towel. Dredge with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour. In large skillet, heat 2 tablespoons butter.

Add eggplant and cook over brisk flame for 10 minutes on each side, or until well browned. Remove eggplant to heated serving dish. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Keep warm.

Add 2 tablespoons butter to skillet and cook until butter is slightly browned. Pour over eggplant. Serve very hot. With rice this makes a tasty lunch or meatless dinner.

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For FarmersDairy Princess to be Selected

The Mahoning County Extension Dairy Committee, in cooperation with the American Dairy Association, is searching for a dairy princess in Mahoning County.

The young lady selected will participate in the state contest and a chance to enter the national contest.

Howard Wilbers of Petersburg is chairman of the Mahoning County Extension Dairy Committee.

Applicants must be between 16 and 25 years of age by Oct. 1, 1960, single, a high school graduate (by June) and the daughter of parents who must derive at least part of their income from dairy farming.

Spittlebugs are Hatching

Spittlebugs, which in many years cause reduced yield in meadows and pastures, are hatching, the farm extension office reports.

Methoxychlor at the rate of 1 pound actual per acre (2 qts. 25 per cent emulsifiable concentrate) is the recommended material. Use 10 gallons or more water per acre. Do not pasture nor harvest for at least 7 days. The critical thing to watch is the height of plants.

It is best not to delay spraying after alfalfa reaches the height of 8 inches or clover approximately 6 inches. Methoxychlor gives only fair results when plants are too tall for good coverage. On the other hand, methoxychlor has excellent residual properties and will last for several days to control the stragglers that could hatch out following the spray application. Very little or no delay in the hatch is expected this year.

By the time spittle masses are observed it is too late for effective chemical control of this insect. These bugs which are small in size and orangish in color may be found on dandelion, wild carrot and other weeds with a rosette type growth as well as on clover and alfalfa plants. The young bugs may be found in the leaf axil

Youngstown's Kirwan Gains Easy Victory

3 Ohio Democratic Congressmen Win Renomination Over Opponents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At nomination over Emanuel Cotlar at least three of Ohio's five incumbent Democratic congressmen who had opposition in Tuesday's primary election seemed assured of renomination on the basis of unofficial returns.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown won handily over his challenger, Ross Pochiro of the basic of 149 polling places reporting in of 510. Republican David Dennison of Warren won the Republican nomination without opposition in that district.

Rep. Thomas Ludlow Ashley of Waterville, the 9th District Democratic incumbent, was winning easily over Frank Rossler of Toledo.

Kirwan will be opposed in November by Paul E. Stevens of Poland who won the Republican

S. Korea Boat Repels Attack by Red Craft

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A South Korean navy frigate today repelled a North Korean torpedo boat attack which the navy claimed was designed to cover an attempt to land Red agents.

The navy said the encounter was over in less than five minutes and the three attack craft fled into dense fog when the 1,200-ton frigate returned fire. The frigate suffered no crew casualties or material damage, a spokesman said. It was not known whether the attackers were hit.

ever, said their man had shown he could win the state in the November election.

In the District of Columbia, Humphrey had a decisive edge over Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon in the Democratic presidential preference vote.

With 100 of 142 Democratic ballot boxes recorded, Humphrey had 4,055 votes and Morse had 2,822 votes.

But a Democrat unlisted on the ballot, Adlai E. Stevenson, also showed he had support in the nation's capital.

A slate of convention delegates pledged to him held second place behind the Humphrey slate. There even was a possibility one Stevenson candidate might capture a delegate spot.

But, since the District of Columbia's Democrats vote under the unit rule, Humphrey was certain to have the city's nine votes at the Democratic National Convention in July.

The Republicans had no presidential preference ballot. All their delegate candidates were pledged to Nixon. The District of Columbia will have eight votes at the Republican convention.

Only 35,000 Voted

It appeared that only 35,000 persons voted. Washington, which can not vote in general elections, has a population of 850,000.

Hanover Township Levies Approved

Hanover Township voters by two-to-one vote approved two renewal levies in Tuesday's elections, one for fire protection and the other for roads. Both were for one mill and will run for five years each.

The fire levy passed 196 to 84 while the road proposal swept in 187 to 101.

Over in West Township, a two-mill levy for road purposes passed by 147 to 81 vote. The levy runs for two years.

East Liverpool voters approved three school levies, one an eight-mill renewals, one a new one-mill levy and the other a new three-mill levy.

Center Township and Elkrun Township both approved fire renewal levies for five years. The Center levy is four-tenths of a mill and the Elkrun, a half-mill.

Franklin and Washington Townships turned down levies for police protection. Franklin offered a two-tenths of a mill levy for two years and Washington, a one-half mill levy for five years.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Make Anginal Attack 'Successful Calamity'

If you are one of the patients whose chest pain has been diagnosed as a "true" angina pectoris, and if you're one of the fortunate whose anginal seizures are not due to a fairly complete blockage of your coronary "fuel line," you can help your doctor convert your attack into a "successful calamity" by making the following observations:

1. Starting place (nipple, chest, jaw, shoulder, wrist, etc.);
2. Quality of the discomfort (heaviness, squeezing, pain);
3. Intensity of the discomfort (mild, moderate, severe, agonizing);
4. Course of the discomfort (localized, running to shoulder or down arm, etc.);
5. Duration of the attack (in seconds, if possible);
6. Effect of exercise (walking far on level; how far up hill; climbing how many stairs; lifting how much weight how many times, etc.);
7. Effect of meals, of meals and exercise;
8. Effect of weather conditions, especially heat, cold and wind.

THE IMPORTANCE of these observations — that only you can make — lies in the fact that the true anginal attack always runs true to form.

Once that pattern is clearly established, your doctor can tell you with fair accuracy how much you can do before your heart muscle cries out with oxygen hunger. And you can tell how you're getting along.

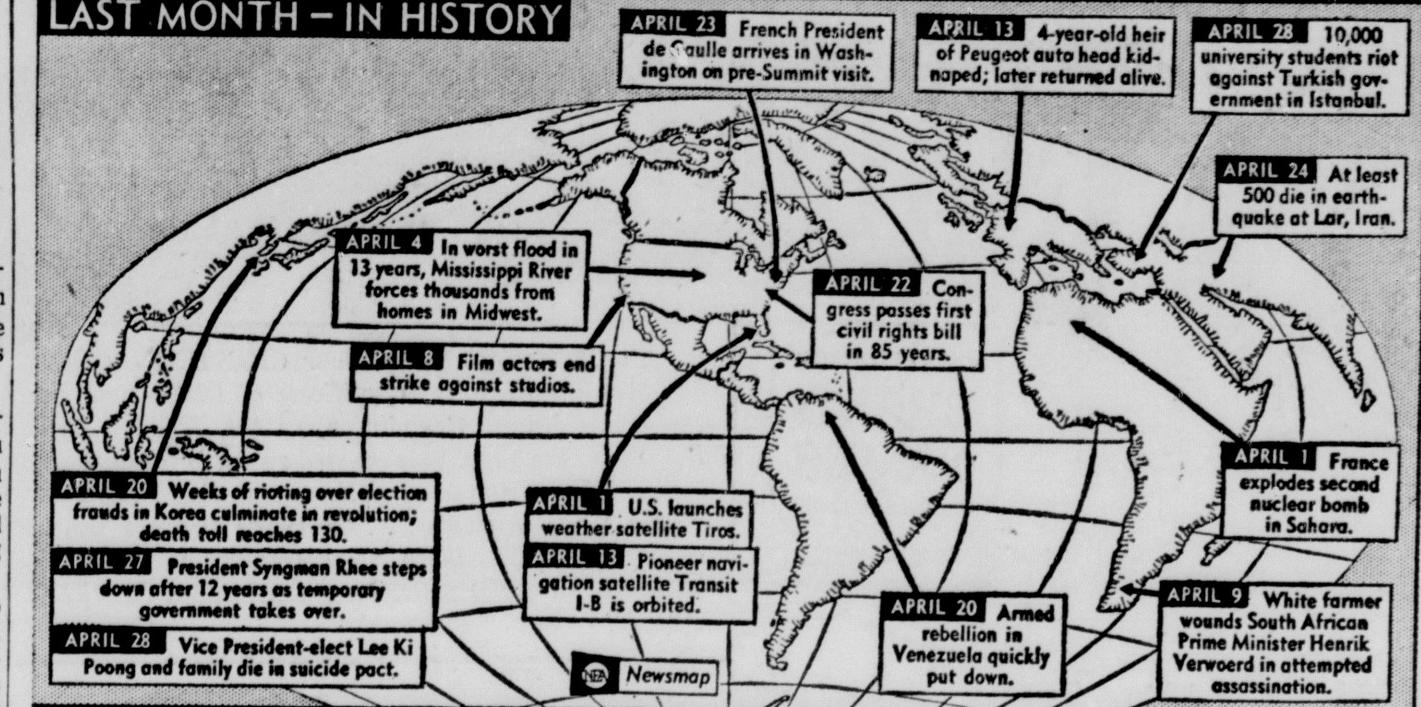

That is to say, if you can do more without provoking an attack, you know your progress is favorable. If you're not able to do as much, you're going to have to do what you'd do if your motor was knocking — either let up on the gas pedal or shift into lower gear.

If there is a change in the fixed pattern, you'd better let your doctor make sure you haven't developed a real blockage in your coronary fuel line.

"HOLD ON A MINUTE." I hear you saying at this point. "What's about this converting the attack into the successful calamity you promised at the start of the piece?"

Just this. In the experience of most seasoned physicians, the patient who obeys the warning signals of a true angina is less likely to suffer a complete coronary closure than those who have never recognized the heart muscle's cry of oxygen hunger.

The patient whose anginal attack has taught him how to protect his heart muscle from periods of oxygen hunger has every expectation of living out his life span provided that he exhibits a willingness to keep pressure out of his life and shift his activities into a lower gear.

Further details in another piece on this fascinating subject.

Salem Mile Relay Team Snaps Mark As Quakers Win Meet

Ravenna Fails to Take First In Any Event

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Salem's mile relay team broke its own school record Tuesday at Reilly Stadium as the Quaker track squad routed the Ravenna Ravens 105-56 to 12-56.

The Quakers swept first places in all 14 events.

Ravenna went into last night's contest with four victories in their last five meets. Salem, which has yet to be pressed after five dual and two triangular meets, was a heavy favorite over the Ravens.

However, Ravenna's top men were far off their usual performance last night which helped contribute to Salem's overwhelming margin of victory.

Ravenna picked up three second places, two thirds, one three way tie for second and a two way tie for third. Everything else was grabbed up by the Quakers.

Salem had a hot afternoon, turning in their best marks of the season in four events and tying their best previous 1960 record in another.

FOR THE SECOND straight meet, Salem's mile relay team set a new school record. The combination of Tom Floyd, George Goodballe, Gordy Scullion and Dan Krichbaum turned in a time of 3:41.9 for the four laps. Their old mark set last week in a triangular meet against Youngstown Cardinal Mooney and Hubbard was 3:42.1.

All four of Salem's relay men outdid their opponents but Krichbaum was particularly impressive. Running as anchor man, Krichbaum streaked the final 400 yards in what many observers believed to be his best time of the year. Individual clockings of the mile relay team were not taken.

Krichbaum was also involved in the most exciting race of the day. Ravenna's ace quarter-miler, Gary Williams, led the Salem senior throughout the first 400 yards of the race.

However, in the stretch Williams completely ran out of steam and Krichbaum darted past him to win pulling away.

KRICHBAUM'S WINNING time in the 440 was 53.1. Williams finished in 55.4 just a step ahead of Salem's Tom Floyd who was clocked in 55.6.

In his last meet, Williams ran the 440 in 52.4. Krichbaum ran the event in 52.9 last week to the all-time Salem High record.

Ravenna's top dash man and broad jumper, Fred Thomas, also was a big disappointment for the Ravens. He failed to place in the broad jump, was beaten out by Salem's Tim Burchfield in the 100-yard dash and didn't even take part in the 220.

Burchfield continued to score heavily for the Quakers. The co-captain won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and handled the anchor leg on the winning half mile relay team.

SALEM ALSO HAD four double winners, Ed Yates scooted to victories in both hurdles events, Jim Lehwald won the high jump and pole vault, Solmen romped home first in the mile and half mile and Krichbaum scored twice in the 440 and mile relay.

Salem swept all three places in the mile, 220, shot put, discus and pole vault.

Burchfield's winning time in the 100 was 10.7. His 23.9 for the 220 tied his best previous time this season in that event.

Yates ran the low hurdles in 21.4, his best time of the year. Solmen chopped four seconds off his best previous mark in the mile. His time was 4:40.2. The senior co-captain still has work to do to reach the 4:34 he ran the mile in last year as a junior.

JIM LEHWALD turned in the best pole vault performance by a Quaker this season. He went over the bar at 11 ft. 4 in. yesterday.

Rick Sulea broadjumped 18 ft. 6 1/4 in. to cap that event. Dan Davidson's discus throw of 124 ft. was the best of the night. Ned Chappell led a clean sweep for Salem in the shot put with his toss of 45 ft. 4 in.

The Quakers left Ravenna's top vaulter at 9 ft. 6 in. Salem's Fred Harshman went 10 ft. 4 in. but failed to place in the classy field.

Rick Sulea broadjumped 18 ft. 6 1/4 in. to cap that event. Dan Davidson's discus throw of 124 ft. was the best of the night. Ned Chappell led a clean sweep for Salem in the shot put with his toss of 45 ft. 4 in.

SALEM'S TOP discus man, Bob Zeppernick, and their leading high hurdler, Herb Call, both missed yesterday's meet. They were on a singing engagement with the high school chorus.

Tonight at 4 p.m. the Salem Jayvees will take on the Fairfield-Waterford varsity at Reilly Stadium.

The Salem varsity will be in action again on Saturday when it takes part in the Mentor Relays. Coach Karl Zellers says he plans to take a squad of approximately 30 men to Mentor. The Quakers will have at least one entry in each event.

7-6 Loss To Senators Drops Indians Into Third Place

Francona Gets
Three RBIs

Teams Meet Today
In Series Finale

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland pitcher Barry Latman is Manager Joe Gordon's choice today in the series finale against the Washington Senators.

Latman's mound opponent will be Camilo Pascual, whose career has been jinxed by the Tribe 11 times. He defeated them once, and his record against Cleveland last year was 0-1.

Nine pitchers—five for Cleveland, four for Washington—were used Tuesday night as the Senators defeated the Indians 7-6 in a seesaw battle.

Lusty swinging by Tito Francona, last year's unofficial league batting champion, accounted for half the Tribe's run total. The three RBI were Francona's first of the season.

He doubled, scoring a tying run in the sixth; singled to drive in a run in the seventh and doubled in the tying run in the ninth. Francona was omitted from the starting lineup, but broke in as a pinch-hitter for John Romano in the third, driving in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Bubba Phillips and pinch-hitter George Strickland knocked in runs with singles in the second.

With the score tied 6-all in the ninth, Bob Tiefenauer, the loser, trudged from the bullpen to be greeted by Earl Battey's single. Don Mincher sacrificed, and all hands were safe when the Indians' pitcher made a late throw to second.

After Reno Bertoia bunted into a force at third, Lenny Green broke up the game with a looper to right field.

Gordon employed 21 players, including five pinch-hitters and three pinch-runners, in a frantic attempt to stay in first place with Chicago.

The defeat dropped the Indians into third, a game behind the White Sox and a half-game behind the New York Yankees.

Starter Jim Perry gave up four runs in the first inning, three of them unearned on errors by John Temple and Jim Piersall.

Temple fumbled a toss from Woodie Held on an attempted double play, and Piersall made a wild throw to the plate. They were the only errors of the game, but they hurt.

Painesville Track To Open Friday

Fred (Maestro) Bach, the Aurora, O., reinsman who copped top driver honors last spring, will be making a bid to repeat as the No. 1 reinsman on the grounds when the 1960 Painesville meeting opens on Friday night at Northfield Park.

Last year the World War II paratrooper chalked up 32 victories at the Painesville meeting to lead the field by a wide margin. This was short however of the all time area total of 36 set by the late Bob Piaxco back in 1953.

Bach will have some 45 standard-bred horses at his command when the meeting opens. Included in his stock are such as Doctor Marx, Friendly Hal, and Lady Burton as well as a large number of newcomers to his stable.

The defending title holder trained his stock at Washington, North Carolina, this winter.

Post time each night at the Painesville meeting will be 8:30 p.m. with the daily double windows closing at 8:20 p.m.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

About 75 per cent of the fishermen fishing at Lake Guilford are carp fishermen. Most of them fish for fun while others say they have a way of preparing carp for table use and really like them.

One Alliance fisherman was catching carp by the dozens and flipping them back in the lake because he didn't want them. That's ZEPPERNICK LAKE is scheduled for another stocking of eastern chain pickerel fingerlings as soon as they reach the desired stocking size. The ones stocked last year are growing fast.

The state also owns the little pond just south of the Zeppernick area which is about 2½ acres. This is open for public fishing and is what was formerly the Loren Ruff farm.

It was stocked with eastern chain pickerel fry last Thursday. These fish reach around nine pounds at maturity.

Small mouth bass and rock bass have been hitting in Beaver Creek. The carp and sucker fishermen are also present along this stream and are doing all right.

ENTRIES will be composed of men and women, including many husband and wife combinations. The tourney, which is slated to get underway at 8 p.m. Friday, will run for five consecutive weekends. Pauline reports that reservations still can be made at Saxon Lanes.

A group of bowlers from Youngstown are scheduled to roll on Friday. This contingent includes Mrs. Carrie Slagle, president of the Ohio Women's Bowling Association who will team with her husband, Glen. Mrs. Slagle lived in Salem before moving to Youngstown.

A full squad from Weirton, W. Va., has reserved Saxon Lanes for the 7 p.m. shift on May 28. Mrs. Hazel Culler, secretary of the Weirton Women's Bowling Association, is a member of this squad.

All but one couple from the Weirton squad will be husband and wife teams. The other couple is a brother and sister combination.

Each team will bowl three games across six lanes. The tournament is sanctioned by the A.B.C. and the W.I.B.C.

Slow Pitch Softball Loop to Organize

An organizational meeting for a slow pitch softball league will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 11, in the Memorial Building.

Charles F. Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, reports that he has written letters to numerous industries, clubs and organizations in the city asking them to have a representative at the meeting if they are interested in entering a team in such a league.

Slow pitch ball differs from regular softball in that 10 players make up a team instead of the usual nine and the ball must be arched when it is thrown to a batter.

Tentative plans are for the Slow Pitch League to play at Kelley Field on Wednesday nights.

37½-In. Muskie Taken In Net at Lake Milton

A 37½ inch muskie was recently taken in the test nets at Lake Milton.

The unusual part of the story is that State Wildlife officials believe the muskie was stocked as a fly-sized youngster in Deer Creek Reservoir in 1955. If this supposition, based on his records, is true, the adventurous muskie went over the 20-foot high Deer Creek dam, traveled 12 miles downstream to go over the 54-foot high Berlin Reservoir dam.

The wanderer wasn't through yet. It went over the 8-foot Stillings Dam and was eventually captured in Lake Milton. The fish management workers tagged him and again turned the energetic fish loose.

Ezzard Charles Taking Up Wrestling Career

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, once king of the world's heavyweight boxers, is starting a new vocation—pro wrestling.

Charles has been taking lessons from Mark (Little Gorgeous)

George Webb. They leave today to start a tour of Canada.

Webb said Ezzard is a fast learner and should be skilled in about six months. He said, "Ezz probably will be used as a referee at first, then later on we'll break him in on the mat."

Charles has tried several times to make a boxing comeback, but had little of his old talent.

He said, "After my last fight in Tulsa last October, I figured it was time to give it up."

"But I'm really excited about this wrestling. It's something new. It'll keep me in condition."

Good Year Ahead for Walleye Fishermen In Northeast Ohio

Northeastern Ohio walleye fishermen can look forward to a banner year if test net findings mean anything, according to Danny Armbruster, Wildlife District 3 fish management agent, Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The top three lakes mentioned by Armbruster are Lake Milton, Mahoning County; Berlin Reservoir, Mahoning, Stark and Portage Counties; and Pymatuning Lake, Ashtabula County.

In Lake Milton, about 400 walleyes, ranging from 15 to 27 inches, were taken in the nets and tagged. Best fishing is below the Milton dam and also below the Berlin dam. Anglers are urged to turn in all tags on fish they catch.

LARGE CHANNEL catfish up to 8 pounds in size were taken in the test nets. Largemouth bass showed up well with fish up to 6½ pounds being taken. All were tagged before they were returned to the lake. Lots of crappies were netted, but they were smaller than usual. White bass were fewer in number but they were of good size.

Berlin Reservoir walleyes ranged from 15 to 24½ inches in size and were tagged. Most of them were netted south of Rt. 224. Channel cats were big here, too. One 35-inch cat, estimated to weigh 15 pounds, Armbruster reports.

"In summary, it sounds like good fishing in northeastern Ohio this year, especially in these three lakes," Armbruster reports.

Pinson Plunked by Williams

Redlegs Defeat Dodgers 5-3; Phils Eke 10-9 Win Over Cubs

By The Associated Press
The way things were going at Los Angeles, it looks like Vada Pinson blew town just in time.

It was Pinson, Cincinnati's fleet, 170-pound center fielder, who sent Roger Craig tumbling in a home plate collision Monday night.

Craig, the 190-pound right-hander who meant a National League pennant for the Dodgers last season, left the game with what was thought to be only a bruised right shoulder.

But after an examination Tuesday uncovered a broken collarbone that will sideline Craig for two months, it didn't take Pinson long to get the idea he was a marked man. Dodger pitchers kept him dancing and dodging and relieved Stan Williams finally plunked him, as the Reds took a 5-3 decision Tuesday night and then left for San Francisco.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs 10-9 in the other game played in the NL. The only other game scheduled, Milwaukee at San Francisco, was rained out.

In the American League, Washington ended Cleveland's winning streak at five with a 7-6 decision that dropped the Indians out of a first-place tie with Chicago. The White Sox defeated Baltimore 5-3 for a half-game edge over the New York Yankees, who handed Detroit a seventh straight defeat, 10-3. Boston beat Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings.

The Dodgers finally nicked Pinson (on the right hand) in the seventh inning. He then stole second, went to third on a fly ball and scored the Reds' final run when Williams sent a wild pitch over Frank Robinson's head.

Plate umpire Tony Venzon called a halt at that point and shook a finger at Williams, a right-hander with something less than pinpoint control. Players from both clubs crowded around the plate, but Venzon later said his rebuke was not an official warning, which would carry an automatic $50 fine.

The Phils came from behind with six runs in the fifth and then scored the winner in the ninth on Ken Walters' home run, his first. Frank Thomas hit two home runs for the Cubs, who built a 5-0 lead in two innings against Gene Conley, the basketball-playing right-hander making his first 1960 appearance for the Phils. Jack Meyer (1-1) was the winner in relief. Glen Hobbie (2-2) lost it.

Two Groups Seek Windy City Franchise

By The Associated Press

While the rest of their starting pitchers have stumbled, contributing just one victory and one complete game, Pierce has the defending champs all by themselves in the American League lead after beating Baltimore 5-3 Monday night for his second complete game victory.

Washington tripped Cleveland out of a tie for first with a 7-6 decision that ended the Indians' winning streak at five and dropped the Tribe to third place. The New York Yankees took over in second, a half-game behind Chicago, by walloping Detroit 10-3. It was the Tigers' seventh consecutive loss. Boston defeated Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Cincinnati made it two straight over Los Angeles 5-3 and Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 10-9. The only other game scheduled, Milwaukee at San Francisco, was rained out.

Pierce (2-1), bidding for a comeback as a 20-game winner after 17-11 and 14-15 records the past two seasons, allowed 10 hits, but struck out six and didn't walk a man while beating the Orioles for the 20th time in 26 career decisions. The stubby southpaw had a 4-0 lead before two singles and Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly juked his shutout in the fourth.

He shut the door after Ron Hansen hammered his first major league home run in the fifth inning. A pop fly by Lenny Green fell for a single in right field and won it in the ninth for the Senators. It followed a single by Earl Battey and bunt by Don Mincher. The Indians, down 4-0 in the first inning, had battled back behind Tito Francona, who drove in three runs and scored another—tying it 6-6 in the ninth with his second double. Jack Kralick (2-0) won it and Bobby Tiefenauer (0-1) lost it, both in relief.

The Tigers, who won their first five games and haven't won since, blew a 2-0 lead. Bill Skowron's fifth home run tied it in the fourth, and three fifth-inning runs driven in by singles from winning reliever Art Ditmar (1-0), Gil McDowell and Roger Maris then hung the defeat on Don Mossi (0-2). Maris and pinch-hitter Kent Hadley also homered for the Yanks.

The Red Sox held to a tie when the A's scored an unearned run in the eighth, handed Kansas City a fifth straight loss on an error by Norm Siebern in the 10th. The tie-breaker came in on a wild throw on Pete Runnels' bunt after a leadoff double by Don Buddin. Bill Monbouquette (2-2), won it with three innings of two-hit, shutout relief. Bud Daley (1-2) was the loser.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

LOS ANGELES' Viet line with magnetic devotion, Jimmy Hoffa, who sees red so who actually pressured the mon-frequently these days, apparently is politically color blind. The man whose conservatism was as rock-bibbed as his fist, has been conferring often and quietly with men long accused before federal and congressional agencies of pro-Communist and pro-Soviet activities.

TWO OF THESE MEN are Harry Bridges, president, and Louis Goldblatt, secretary-treasurer of the powerful International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which has paralyzed the economy of our Hawaiian outpost with hard-hitting strikes. Jim Hoffa's indifference to the record of pro-Soviet activities of these men is almost awesome. Hoffa has continued his drive to mesh the Teamsters and the Bridges - Goldblatt Longshoremen, though he has read of Goldblatt's refusal to deny that he was a member of the Communist party.

This happened under oath before the McClellan committee on July 10, 1959. It was then that Sen. McClellan asked Goldblatt:

"Now I will ask you if you have in the past, any time in the past since you have been a member of a union, have you been a member of the Communist party?"

Brother Goldblatt, Hoffa's latest ally, refused a direct answer. He took the Fifth.

At another time he was asked if he had written and published a pamphlet which said in part: "We in the U.S. under the leadership of the Communist party and the Young Communist League shall overthrow capitalism and build a workers and farmers government—a Soviet America." To each his own. He again took the Fifth.

It was this same Goldblatt and Bridges who were angered when one of the monitors, Godfrey Schmidt, wrote a document protesting the Teamsters alliance with the left. This was in mid-summer of '58.

The Longshoremen chiefs wanted to get Schmidt out of the way because he "was frustrating the alliance between the Teamsters and the ILWU."

THEY WANTED him replaced by the late Bartley Crum, long a friend of Harry Bridges. But they had attorney Crum all wrong. He had decided not to play ball with them. As he later testified, he "didn't want to be a stool pigeon for Hoffa."

According to Crum's testimony before the McClellan committee, Goldblatt and Bridges tracked him down in a San Francisco hotel. On that summer day in '58, they sweated him. They told Crum they were dissatisfied with the way Schmidt was acting as monitor. They proposed that Crum go to Schmidt and offer him a settlement. Then Schmidt was to resign. Crum was then to take his place. Crum refused.

Goldblatt and Bridges continued to pressure him over the months. Finally on Nov. 5, Bridges telephoned Crum again. Harry said he was sorry that Crum was balking. The lawyer then said he thought that what "Hoffa wanted was a stooge, not a monitor." The next night Goldblatt called. Always the same pressure.

Always their objective was the same, too. They wanted to clear the way for a coalition with Hoffa in a federation of transport workers on the land, on the sea and in the air.

Crum died. But the objective didn't. They're still planning, the boys and Hoffa.

Aussie Students 'Bombard' U.S. Sub, 'Kidnap' 2 Sailors

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—University students bombarded the U.S. atomic submarine Halibut with firecrackers Tuesday night and held two American sailors in a dog house for ransom.

The Halibut is here with the U.S. cruiser Canberra for the annual anniversary observance of the Battle of the Coral Sea. Two years ago students boarded the U.S. carrier Bennington here on the same mission, and brought the crew to action stations by setting off the general alarm.

Tuesday night the youths rigged a catapult of bicycle tubes overlooking the Halibut's berth and started to bombard at long range with five-cent firecrackers. All the shots fell short, nobody was hurt, and the students fled with local police in pursuit.

Then a telegram arrived at the Canberra demanding one shilling (11 cents) from each of the 85 officers and 1,350 enlisted men aboard to ransom two kidnapped American sailors, Dick Jamieson of Michigan and Rex Leard from Texas.

(University students are collecting money today to help finance the Australian Olympic team's trip to Rome.)

Two good-looking girls had "accidentally" met Jamieson and Leard in the city and invited them to look over the university. On the campus male students pounced on the sailors, locked them in an outside dog kennel in the veterinary school and called in newspaper photographers.

After sending the telegram to the cruiser, the kidnappers took their captives off to a party.

Leard and Jamieson were back on the Canberra before their leave passes expired at 11 p.m. The cruiser's duty officer refused to say if the ransom had been paid. He would not give the home towns of the two sailors.

Los Angeles' Viet line with magnetic devotion,

Jimmy Hoffa, who sees red so who actually pressured the mon-frequently these days, apparently is politically color blind. The man whose conservatism was as rock-bibbed as his fist, has been conferring often and quietly with men long accused before federal and congressional agencies of pro-Communist and pro-Soviet activities.

TWO OF THESE MEN are Harry Bridges, president, and Louis Goldblatt, secretary-treasurer of the powerful International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union which has paralyzed the economy of our Hawaiian outpost with hard-hitting strikes.

Jim Hoffa's indifference to the record of pro-Soviet activities of these men is almost awesome. Hoffa has continued his drive to mesh the Teamsters and the Bridges - Goldblatt Longshoremen, though he has read of Goldblatt's refusal to deny that he was a member of the Communist party.

This happened under oath before the McClellan committee on July 10, 1959. It was then that Sen. McClellan asked Goldblatt:

"Now I will ask you if you have in the past, any time in the past since you have been a member of a union, have you been a member of the Communist party?"

Brother Goldblatt, Hoffa's latest ally, refused a direct answer. He took the Fifth.

At another time he was asked if he had written and published a pamphlet which said in part: "We in the U.S. under the leadership of the Communist party and the Young Communist League shall overthrow capitalism and build a workers and farmers government—a Soviet America." To each his own. He again took the Fifth.

It was this same Goldblatt and Bridges who were angered when one of the monitors, Godfrey Schmidt, wrote a document protesting the Teamsters alliance with the left. This was in mid-summer of '58.

The Longshoremen chiefs wanted to get Schmidt out of the way because he "was frustrating the alliance between the Teamsters and the ILWU."

THEY WANTED him replaced by the late Bartley Crum, long a friend of Harry Bridges. But they had attorney Crum all wrong. He had decided not to play ball with them. As he later testified, he "didn't want to be a stool pigeon for Hoffa."

According to Crum's testimony before the McClellan committee, Goldblatt and Bridges tracked him down in a San Francisco hotel. On that summer day in '58, they sweated him. They told Crum they were dissatisfied with the way Schmidt was acting as monitor. They proposed that Crum go to Schmidt and offer him a settlement. Then Schmidt was to resign. Crum was then to take his place. Crum refused.

Goldblatt and Bridges continued to pressure him over the months. Finally on Nov. 5, Bridges telephoned Crum again. Harry said he was sorry that Crum was balking.

The lawyer then said he thought that what "Hoffa wanted was a stooge, not a monitor." The next night Goldblatt called. Always the same pressure.

Always their objective was the same, too. They wanted to clear the way for a coalition with Hoffa in a federation of transport workers on the land, on the sea and in the air.

Crum died. But the objective didn't. They're still planning, the boys and Hoffa.
